DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4, 6, 7, 9, 10, 14-16, 18, 19 and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Roberts 6,676,483.

Referring to claims 1-4, 6, 18, 19 and 21-24, Roberts discloses a polishing apparatus having the claimed elements that comprise a polishing pad having a polishing region and a light transmitting region, and the light transmitting material being made of polyester polycarbonate polyol. Roberts does not specifically disclose all the material which the apparatus is formed, nor did Roberts disclose the light-transmitting region being formed in a single layer structure. The material from which the apparatus is made can be determined through routine experimentation; and as far as the single light-transmitting section is concerned, the forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made Roberts' apparatus of the claimed materials, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Art Unit: 3723

Referring to claims 7, 9, 10 and 14-16, as best understood, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Roberts.

Roberts is described above. In describing the apparatus, Roberts implicitly describes the claimed manufacturing steps, except disclosing that the solution in which the material was submerged is potassium hydroxide. The use of a particular solution is a matter of engineering expedient since the purpose for which the material is to be used is known. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used potassium hydroxide as the solution, since it has been held that omission of an element and its function in a combination where the remaining elements perform the same functions as before involves only routine skill in the art. In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 25 and 26 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 1/21/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to Applicant's arguments that US Patent No. 6,676,483 (to Roberts) does not disclose a light transmitting region having a single layer structure, the forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art.

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 25 and 26 are moot since the claims are approved.
